ROCKY MOUNTAIN AUDIO VIDEO EXPO

Thank you for your interest in speaking at the Rocky Mountain Audio Video Expo (AVX), the region's largest audio visual, broadcast, training, audio, video and digital media show. We are looking for dynamic speakers who can educate and excite our attendees about new advances in this MultiExperience!

AVX features numerous manufacturer exhibits and seminars, highlighting new production techniques, delivery media, and information technology solutions, along with ways to make companies highly successful. We invite you to submit ideas for key topics that are relevant right now, and can help businesses stay ahead of their competition.

Each year we focus on how new technologies can help our attendees stay knowledgeable, relevant, and on the leading edge of their industries. In addition, the local pros who sponsor AVX will be available throughout the show to recommend the right equipment for your clients, including the innovative tools and technology they need.

We seek high-level speakers with a proven track record of giving presentations to an engaged audience, including experts in breakthrough technologies, new forms of communication, and the future of media.
